

Assiut University

Faculty of Computers and Information

Rules of Procedure

For the Bachelor Stage in the System of Credit Hours

2011

Faculty vision

The Faculty of Computing and Information at Assiut University strives to achieve excellence and innovation in the fields of education and scientific research.

Community service at the local and regional level.

Faculty mission

The mission of the Faculty of Computing and information is:

- To provide the student with knowledge and scientific research in the fields of computer science and information technology systems and the development of the student's personality to make him willing to innovate and loving teamwork and able to compete locally, regionally and internationally.
- Develop and continually update the curriculum in line with scientific progress, the requirements of the age and the needs of the labour market.
- To develop awareness of the value of continuing education and the inevitability of self-learning and the importance of using modern methods in this field.
- Using scientific research as a means of achieving innovation in the fields of the college by studying the economic, commercial and social importance of the results of scientific research.
- Providing distinguished community service in the fields of the college
- Strengthening the principles of credibility and ethics.

College goals

The college seeks to achieve the following goals:

Preparing qualified computer and information specialists with theoretical bases and application methodologies to qualify them for global competition in the ongoing development of software, systems and information technology