

Accredited faculty by The National Authority
for quality Assurance of education and accreditation

Faculty of Nursing

Research plan for the Department of Family and Community Health Nursing

2023/2027

Accredited faculty by The National Authority
for quality Assurance of education and accreditation

Faculty of Nursing

Research plan for the Department of Family and Community Health Nursing

Introduction:

Producing a research plan for the college is a major requirement in light of the college's vision and mission in education and scientific research to serve society. Sub-work teams were formed in the various departments of the college to develop the research plan for each department. The departmental research plans were integrated to form a research plan for the college by a main team in light of the college's goals and standards.

The vision and mission of the Department of Family and Community Health Nursing

Vision:

The Department of Community Health Nursing - Faculty of Nursing - Assiut University: looks forward to preparing students capable of dealing with the family as one integrated unit, dealing with different age groups in society, reaching the highest level of efficiency in planning, implementing research plans and financing projects

The mission:

The Department of Community Health Nursing - Faculty of Nursing - Assiut University: provides health services to all segments of society by providing health education to the individual, family, community to maintain health, prevent the spread of diseases by applying different levels of health care, as well as early detection of diseases and reducing complications. It also includes vocational and psychological rehabilitation. Conducts

Accredited faculty by The National Authority
for quality Assurance of education and accreditation

Faculty of Nursing

scientific research based on urgent and future global health needs.

Strategic goals for the department

1. Providing the community with graduates that meet the emerging and evolving societal requirements
2. Developing the educational structure in line with progress in nursing education and practices in the field of family and community health nursing
3. Developing research in the field of family and community health nursing in a manner consistent with the goals of sustainable development and the state's plan 2030.

Objectives of research plan

1. Raising the efficiency and improving the nursing service in maternity and childhood care, school students, and occupational health
2. Identify health problems in society and arrange them according to their priorities.
3. Identifying environmental problems in society and the role of nursing in confronting them.
4. Identifying the problems facing the most sensitive groups in society (women - children - the elderly - the disabled - teenage girls)

Accredited faculty by The National Authority
for quality Assurance of education and accreditation

Faculty of Nursing

Domains of research plan

1. Health Promotion
2. Comprehensive nursing care in the field of community health nursing
3. Comprehensive nursing care in the field of community health nursing education
4. Artificial intelligence in the field of community health nursing
5. Anticipating the future in the field of community health nursing
6. Effect of climate change on the health of society
7. Virtual education in the field of community health nursing
8. Crises and disasters

Mechanisms for implementing the plan

1. The college provides capabilities to researchers in the form of updated laboratories – practical skills - training workshops for scientific research - assistive technological means.
2. The plan will be reviewed periodically by committees to ensure it is updated to dealing with scientific developments and potential societal problems.
3. The implementation of the plan will be followed up in light of its outcomes to ensure implementation at the correct timing. The plan includes the following

Accredited faculty by The National Authority
for quality Assurance of education and accreditation

Faculty of Nursing

- Increasing the number of peer-reviewed and internationally published scientific research
- Activating research programs in health institutions.